The Return of the Word Spy

Great Word Search!

G P Q Q C E P V O O Z Y V K Z
Q S D V A G B T Y M C C J O G
A R N X L R N G N V D J F E F
Z U G P A A E V I S S A P D P
I I I I R P R O P E R M S I C
Y A L E O G E T G S L G H H E
R L P M N E O L O G I S M T Y
E S P S D G N P C T G H Y L T
E U X I N N F R R L L M P O R
E D B R D R K C P O O U B G E
P B Y A G I C G G L N X B O W
M H T G S H Y P O W V O L O Q
C T J L K Q D G M U Q X U G D
D U A U J A Y U M X R D T N J
A L E V G V Q A U F R K L I M

Spies! Ten special words from inside the pages of The Return of the Word Spy have gone missing! But they are hiding here in this square. Can you track them down and find them all? If you can, you are a truly- super-Word-Spy! Here are some clues to help you …

1. If you can't see, you can still read a book. What is the name of the special kind of writing used in books for blind people?
2. He was known as Dr Hopeful. But what was the international language he invented known as?
3. If you put a number 1 and add 100 zeros after it, what number do you have? (This world-famous word was invented by a by a 9-year-old boy!
4. When a brand new word is born or invented like this, it's given a special name. What is it, I wonder?
5. A noun is a name for something. Hmm, but what is the name for this sort of noun – she, he, it, you, we, they?
6. Talking of nouns, there's a special name for nouns that begin with a capital letter. Do you know what it is?
7. Most of the keyboards we use are called this. (Hint: have a look at the first six letters on your own keyboard.)
8. I stepped on the elephant's foot. 'Stepped' is called an active verb, because YOU did the stepping. But what do you call this sort of verb - 'I was stepped on by the elephant's foot'? (Ouch!)
9. Entomology is the study of insects. Ah, but what do you call the study of where words come from?
10. Finally, what is do you call a word that's a bit rude but not as bad as swearing?

Answers (not in order, upside down and back to front):
Pronoun; boobol; dweuly; vulgarism; Braille; bassive; neologism; Esperanto; proper; etymology.